

SWR: Pilgrimages in Mariaberg

On July 24, the SWR TV-team with Verena and Lukas was on the road all day with me to make a movie about the walks and the exhibition in Maria Berg (which can still be seen until September 13). It was an interesting experience to be so observed and interviewed. The broadcast date in the National Show I do not know, sometime in August, they said.

Mariaberg sees itself as a diaconal support for outpatient and inpatient services in the youth and disabled assistance. The board has asked me to make a homo universalis work with residents, carers, relatives and visitors next year. I am very happy to do so.

Homo universalis in Endingen

From 6 to 10 and July 22, I photographed at the firehouse, at the clubhouse of a shooters society, in the town hall, in the premises of various companies, in the town hall and in the civic hall exactly 1,344 people from Endingen am Kaiserstuhl, a very nice winetown in the southwest of Germany. On September 25, 2015, the exhibition of 28 large-format flags - each showing 48 participants of a group and their collective portrait - will be inaugurated and then a month characterize the cityscape of Endingen. The portrait of all participants will be seen in the town hall. Project Manager Wolfgang Koch had opened all these doors and it was very special to meet such a range of different individuals and groups.

The face of Fraunhofer IIS

From 13th to 17th of July I was in different locations of the Fraunhofer IIS - from Erlangen to Dresden - to photograph more than 500 employees. The exhibition at the Erlanger headquarters of the Institute - which will open in early December -, both all individual portraits will be on display, as well as a face, which is formed by equal superposition of all those involved: „The face of Fraunhofer IIS.“ Many thanks to Anne and Patricia for the perfect organization, which is an important component of all these projects.

Lectureship at the College of Art and Design, Beijing

From 12 to September 23, 2015 I will be the first time in China, and there at the College of Art and Design - which belongs to the Technical University of Beijing. Together with students I want to perform several works. So a homo universalis with all 1,600 students, for example, is planned and a 3D mosaic and of course some „China walks“. The official invitation has arrived, now it comes to the concrete preparations.

Walk in the Alps

Last weekend I had a tour to the Alps of Tirol, Austria. It was the first time that I did some works called „walks“ there, while hiking. It was amazing not only to hike but to pause often for to take a photograph. I think this was not the last hike-walk. On the right side you see one of the results, the work „walk #128 From Krinnenspitze to Edenalm, 2015“
